

BC Sailing Privacy Policy

To: Learn to Sail and Learn to Cruise Instructor Candidates, and Race Officials

Re: B.C. Government Personal Information Protection Act.

Early in 2004 the B.C. Provincial Government passed the Personal Information Protection Act which restricts the reasons for collection of personal information by public organizations such as B.C. Sailing.

A section of this act permits the collection of reasonable personal information when registering and certifying Instructors and Officials. Because of this we will continue to collect information on candidates that is needed to register them and track their performance and advancement through our systems.

A second section of the act pertains to the publishing of the information we have obtained. We are not allowed to sell our lists nor use them for purposes outside the program the individual is involved in. As you know, we do publish listings of instructors and race officials on the Internet. The purpose of this publication is to enable people looking for instructors or race officials to look on the Web when recruiting people to work in their programs.

Because of the provision in the act, we must ask your permission to place this personal information on our web page. If you do not wish to have your personal information listed on the web page please place an X in the box below.
